

EGT PROFILE / CMTC WEBSITE

Industrial Instrumentation:

Exhaust Gas Technologies manufactures a wide range of thermocouples and RTD assemblies for all types of industrial applications. Our staff has over 80 years of engineering, manufacturing and application experience ready to serve you. Should you need special assistance in the design or application of sensors you can be assured we will respond to your needs in a fast, courteous manner. We are committed to giving our clients the service they are looking for. Our manufacturing and service center are fully equipped with professional staff, modern equipment and extensive inventory of raw materials giving us the advantage and the ability to meet any delivery requirement including rapid shipment capabilities.

